

The Finish Postcode

In the near future a group of successful and wealthy women in their thirties decide what kind of child they want to give birth to. In order to do that, they need to find a man with specific characters. While their biological clock ticking, they decide to participate a secret program. The women and men are selected by a wealthy Dutch businesswoman. They get together in an institute, far away from society, which is also known as "The Finnish Postcode". These are their stories ...

About the ebook

In a modern world as perfectionist as ours The Finnish Postcode takes a critical look in the near future. It is a future in which the man in the life of a woman plays a supporting role. It is a mysterious world. How could this mysterious world exist? Who keeps this shadow world into existence? Is this the world you want to wake up tomorrow?

HQ/e's philosophy

Being different from the others. Distinguished. Swim against the stream. Waking off the beaten tracks. It seems difficult, but it is not. Publications by HQ/e make just an extra step to have the story grab the reader. The abnormal is normal. The impossible is within reach. Make it happen. Make it negotiable. Make it possible. Because it's too easy to go heavy subjects out of the way. It is the mainstay of the HQ/e.
